A fruitful decade for marine research in Kiel Successful merger of IfM and GEOMAR 10 years ago

1st January 2014/Kiel.* Exactly ten years ago a new era began for marine research in Kiel, Germany. The Institute for Marine Research and the GEOMAR Research Centre for Marine Geosciences, teamed up to the Leibniz Institute of Marine Sciences (IFM-GEOMAR). Retrospectively this decision has provided a positive impetus for the entire marine research in Germany: today's GEOMAR Helmholtz Centre for Ocean Research Kiel is one of the world's leading institutions in the field of marine sciences.
